

Active Population: 16
years and older

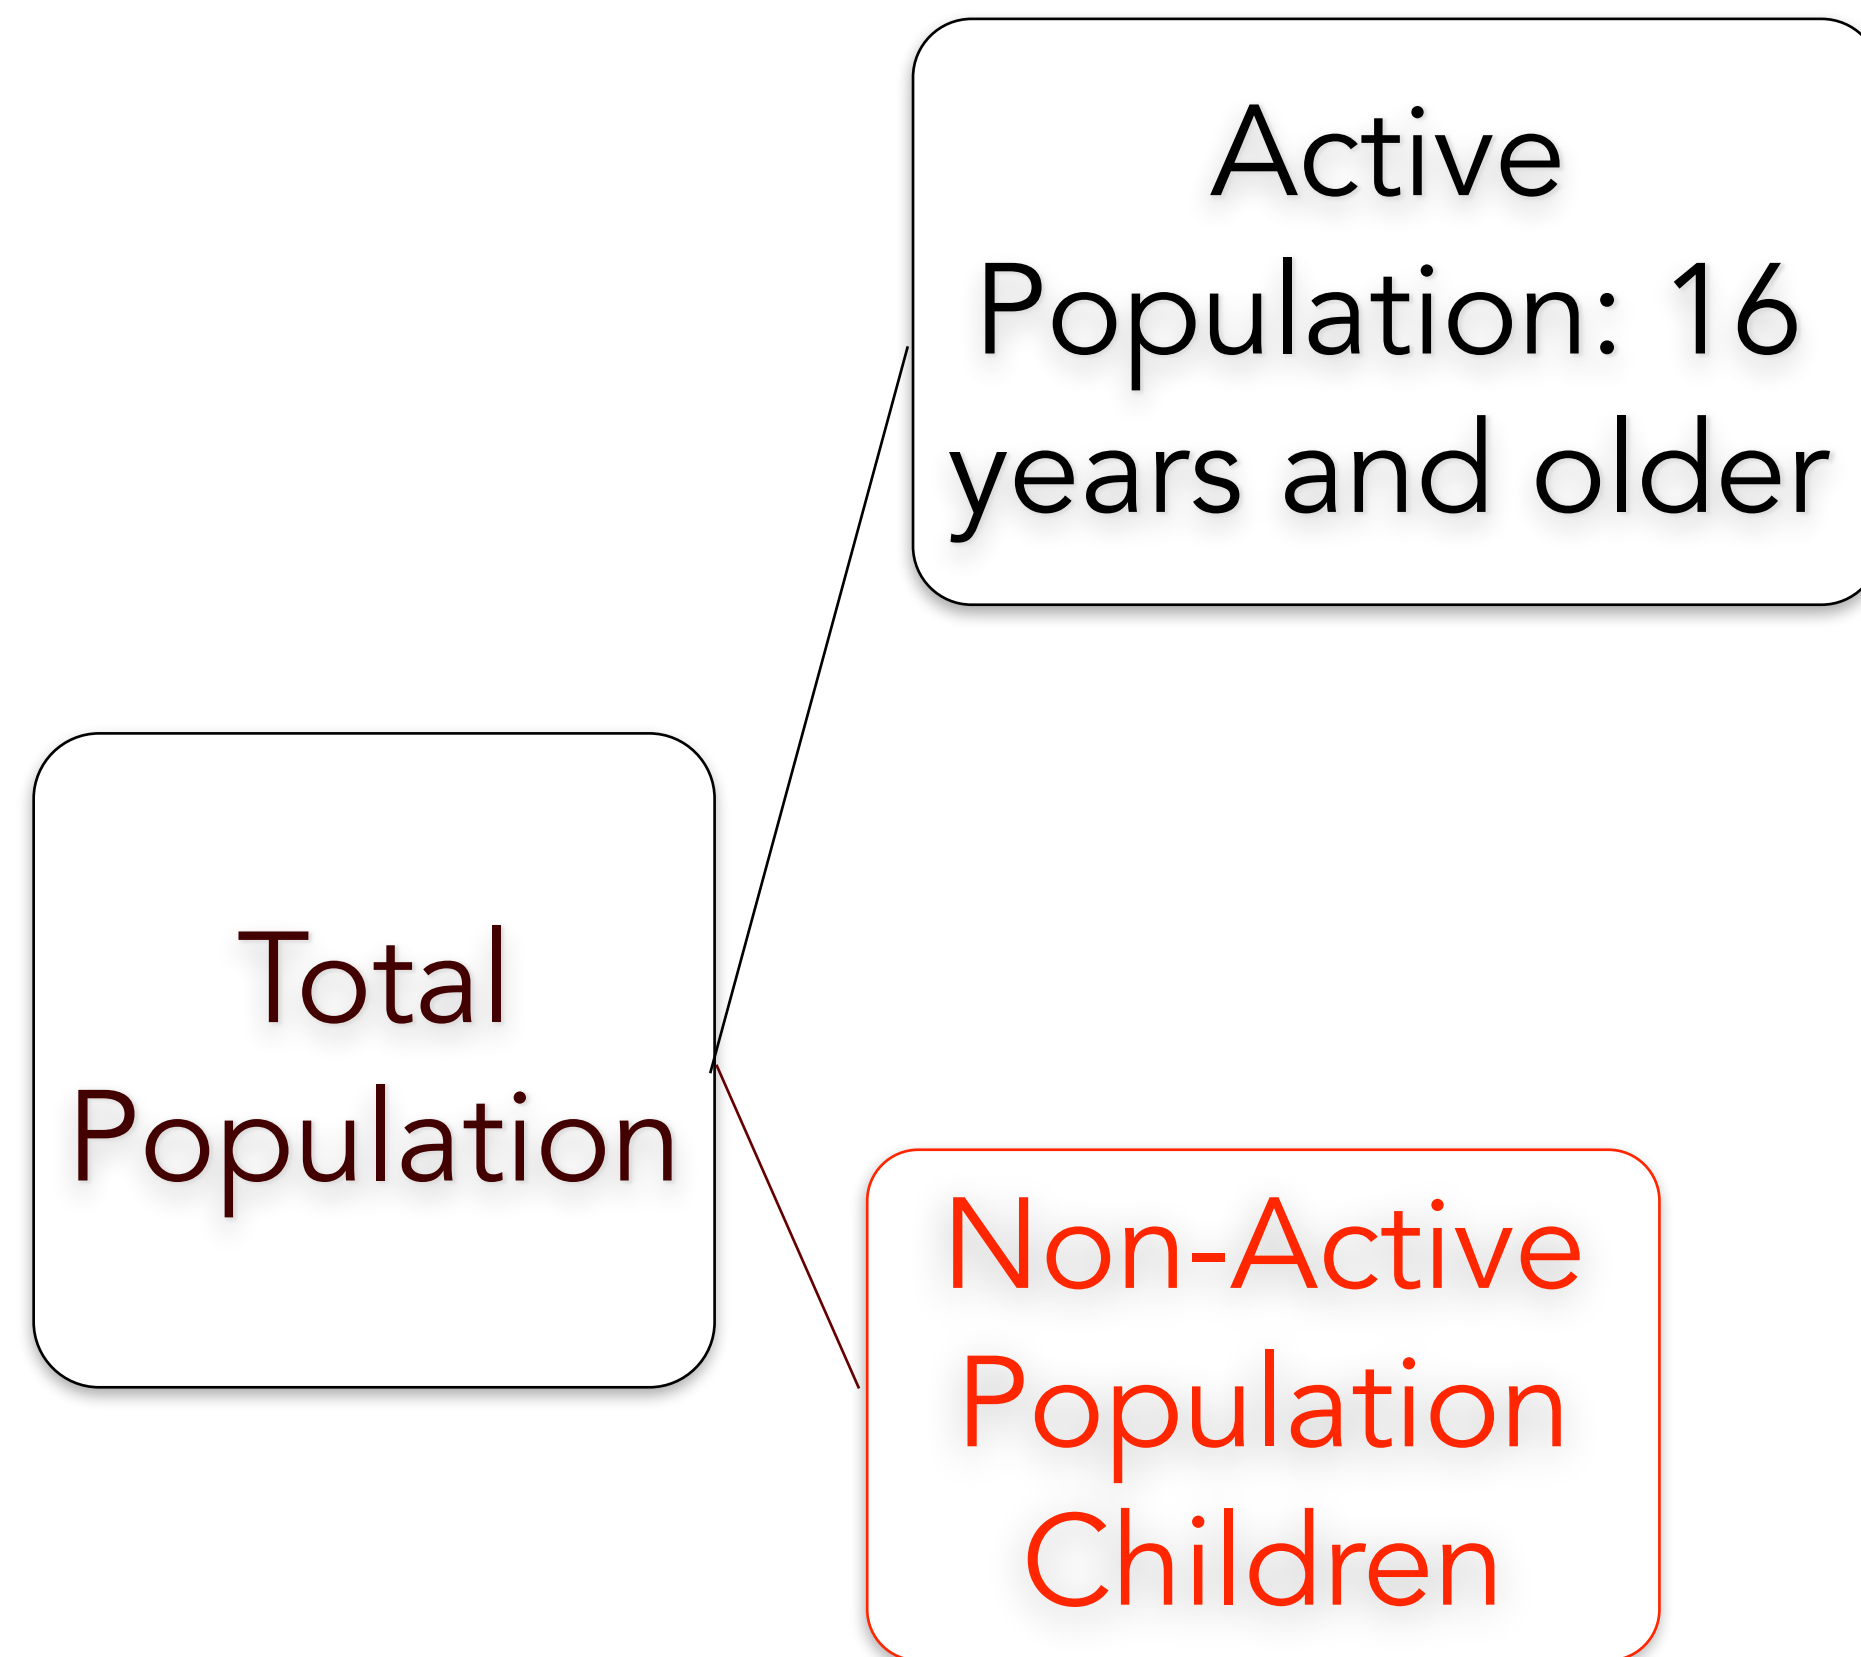

A diagram illustrating the composition of a population. A central box labeled 'Total Population' is connected by two lines to two other boxes. The top box, labeled 'Active Population: 16 years and older', has a black border. The bottom box, labeled 'Non-Active Population Children', has a red border. The 'Total Population' box has a black border.

Total Population

Non-Active Population
Children

The Total U.S. Population is divided into two groups

The Total U.S. Population is divided into two groups

The Active (Adult) Population is divided into two groups: those who can work and those who are institutionalized (can't work)

