

Many buyers

Many sellers

Firms sell identical products

Established firms have no advantages over new firms

Buyers know all available prices

Free Entry and Exit

One or few sellers can not control the price

What makes a Market Perfectly Competitive?

One or few buyers can not control the price

One or few sellers can not control the price

All firms must sell at the same price

All firms sell at the same price

All firms sell at the same price

Many sellers

Buyers

Sellers

Rules to ensure a "tug of war" between equals

Rules to ensure a “tug of war” between equals

Buyers

Sellers

Perfectly Competitive Market

