What happens as we add workers to an empty farm?

Each new worker allows other workers to specialize on fewer tasks, making everyone more productive

What happens as we add workers to an empty farm?

Each new worker allows other workers to specialize on fewer tasks, making everyone more productive

Additional Product is the number of units added to Total Product by each additional worker hired