Additional Product is the number of units added to Total Product by each additional worker hired

Additional Product is the number of units added to Total Product by each additional worker hired

All workers earn the same wage: say $10/day